Will dreams come true with the dream act?

By: Irvin Langarica and Emmanuel Rendon

Many people know about the Dream Act because of the debates happening right now, but did you know that it started back around 2001. You might think the Dream Act is to make dreams come true, but it is an acronym. The Dream Act stands for Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minor Acts. (CNNnews.com) The alien in this case stands for the people who were not born in the country, so like people who came from any other country (examples are: China, Japan, Russia, Mexico, Europe, etc.) are all considered an alien. What the government is trying to do is to get the people who were brought to U.S.A when they were babies and are trying to make them into citizens. The way people are making the government consider trying to pass the Dream Act is by protesting. Fun fact, all states have different reason for the "Dream Act". (USA Today college) Another fact is that the government has already tried to implement the Dream Act

Nike vs Adidas

By: Ezequiel Barraza and Jonathan Flores

Did you know that the cofounder of Nike was Bill Bowerman along with Phil Knight in 1964? (Wikipedia/nike.inc) Do you want to know something interesting? Adidas was originally going to be called "Addas," but the name was rejected, but at the end Adidas is now the name of one of the best shoes.

Did you know that Nike was founded on January 25,1964 and it became Nike, Inc. on May 30,1971. (Wikipedia) Nike got its name from the goddess of victory. Did you know that Nike owns Jordans as well? We interviewed a student named Sebastian Palomera. We asked Sebastian, "What brand do you prefer Nike or Adidas and why?" Sebastian said, "I prefer Adidas because it is more comfortable to wear. Like in soccer shoes, the high tops in Adidas are more loose while Nikes are more tight." That is why he thinks that Adidas is better than Nike.

How will the gym affect sports? We asked many people what their opinion on this topic was and we had many interesting answers, but we also had very similar answers. First of all, we asked the girl's basketball team coach, Mrs. Burrell about how she felt the gym will affect sports and she claimed that, "It is going to give the girls an opportunity

At one of the games, Tipton went against Pixley. It was the first game Ms. Lampe decided to start practicing some of the newer plays called Monkey, Toy, Beautiful and Ugly. Those are some of the plays that she decided to try. Ms. Lampe tells the teams that no one should miss a layup. The team is warming up, they're stretching, and trying more plays. When the boys have to do a free throw they can not jump, which is what Ms. Lam-

On the 3rd of February Tipton School had a tournament. The boys and girls were at two different schools. The boys tournament was at Pixley School while the girl's tournament was at Sundale. The boys team played two games that day. They played Pixley School, and St Aloysius. The boys to play in a gym environment which is the same environment that they play 90% of their games in and it will give them a full court opportunity." It wasn't a whole different story for the students. The students said mostly the same thing. We asked Eyan Arant, Landon Aguirre, Anthony Saldivar, and Victor Espinoza how the gym will affect the sports. Eyan, Landon, and Anthony said that there will be no net above the court so they is teaching them. Ms. Lamp's thoughts on this game are that they are going to either tie or win. So, Tipton starts playing against Pixley. The game is about to start. The boys are going to start playing first. So far, the Pixley boys are winning and the Tipton boys are losing. Tipton is fighting so hard so that they could take home a win. Ms. Lampe was trying to motivate them and guide them to win by saying, "Run faster, run faster!". The game ended and the team lost both games. The first game vs Pixley was 27-6. Then we had around 2 hours before the second game and that was the last game. The game we had against St Aloysius was also another loss, 28-4. The girls lost both of the games as well. They played Sundale first and they lost 17-16, just by one point. The second game was against

What will happen to the old and new cafeteria?

The old cafeteria may be converted into three new classrooms. There hasn't been anything said about what grades they are going to be. The new cafeteria will most likely be finished after spring break. The old kitchen equipment will be put into the new cafeteria. They will also have the after school program in the new cafeteria and new storage rooms. They will have space for the drama class to perform, where the performers will have their performances. They will have a walkway through the new cafeteria and they'll have four full size basketball courts. They will also have a new parking lot near the cafeteria. The

Do you know who feeds you? Well, we can tell you that and even more. Have you ever wondered how or why they choose the food we eat? We asked Ms. Mendoza, "Why doesn't our school give Gatorades as a drink for lunch?" She answered with, "Gatorade doesn't have any nutrition or any goods". Did you know that a 12-ounce serving of Gatorade, contains 21 grams of sugar, but because a regular bottle of Gatorade contains 32 ounces, you're actually getting 56 grams of sugar. While that's still

What are Toms ?shoes?

On May 2006, a company was founded and it is called Toms. The founder of Toms is Blake Mycoskie, an entrepreneur from Arlington, Texas. Toms design and sell shoes based on an Argentine Alpargata design shoes, eyewear, coffee, shirts, apparel, and handbags. The company launched Toms Roasting Co in 2014, and has helped provide over 335,000 weeks of safe water in 6 countries. They gave shoes to some of our Tipton Elementary School students on February 2, 2018. In Tipton Elementary School, Toms shoes were given less sugar per ounce than your average soda, it's not exactly healthy, according to a Ga-torade article. We also asked her, "How many grams of sugar are we supposed to eat in lunch?" Her response was, "69.5 g," and she also goes by who ate, how many ate and what they ate. We also interviewed Sandra Cunha and asked her "Why do you guys give pineapple if people are allergic to it? Her answer was, "Well, they could pick a different kind of fruit." Another question we asked was "Why do you guys have the second choice on the calendar if people don't know about it?" Her re-to TK through 4th grade. Virginia Almeida was in charge of the shoes and she said that Toms partnered up with Save the Children. Virginia helps with Save the Children and the reason they gave us shoes was because Toms likes to donate to low communities to give children new shoes and they want to promote physical activity. The total shoes given away was 411 pairs of shoes. The reason why Blake Mycoskie made Toms shoes was because in a village in Argentina he saw children growing up without shoes. Toms shoes does everything to help people in

Lets Boogie

The dance is a great place to have fun, be with your friends, and relax. We know that kids enjoy going to the dances and really have fun! The dance is a place where friends come to party and have a great time! This dance not only lets people enjoy their afternoon, but also helps the school out. The dance is one of the best places you can go to. A place where you can dance all night, have sweet treats, and dance. Though the dance seems perfect there is also some changes that can be added. For example, one of the changes could be to have more decorations. A lot of people stated that there just isn't enough, for example Yadira Oliveros states, "The dance is nice, but should have more decorations." Another thing that can be changed is the food. When you enter the dance you are charged a certain amount of money. In the middle of the dance when there is a break for treats kids again have to pay a fee for the food. Jose Pena states, "Maybe there should be free food." There is also a lot of other request on different songs or even more snowballs! When you are at the dance you will be having fun with your friends! You guys will be laughing and dancing all night! In fact Aylyn Martinez stated that one of her favorite things about the dance was that she got to hang out with her friends. Another thing you can do is take pictures with your friends. For a small amount money you can have a great memory of the good night with friends. So come over to the dance next time and to party with your friends! At the dance you will get to relax as your giggling with your friends, dancing crazy and don't forget about the singing! You will feel

Moove over for Ag

Are you ready to know what the agriculture elective saw at the Farm Show (World Wide Expo)? Last month we got the chance to interview Jimena, Alessandra, Victor, Silvana, Isabel, and Lizeth. We also asked them a few questions about the trip and about what they learned. The Farm Show is where people from all over the world come and get to see machinery and different things that they could buy as well. The Farm Show happened in Tulare, California which the Ag elective class went to on February 14, 2018. We asked Isabel, Jimena, and Alessandra if they thought the Ag Show was going to be a fun experience? Alessandra's answer was," Yes, because I will get time to spend with my friends." Once they got back from the trip we asked them, "What did you learn at the Ag Show?" Victors answer was, "At the Farm Show what I learned was mostly about machinery and how tractors work and how

Is each penny worth it?

Did you think it was worth it to give some of your money to penny for patients? We'll find out now...I had gone around looking for an answer and I found a teacher named Mrs. Calderon. According to Mrs. Calderon she said that her students were really motivated and they brought approximately a little over $200. So, this money is used for kids and teens with leukemia. Then for my curiosity I had asked her if she had helped with putting in some money. She responded, "I wanted to get to the $300 mark and our gold flag so I had put in about $100. At the moment we have 2 bronze flags and a silver flag too. I just wanted to get to that goal." I wanted to know more so I asked these classes Mrs. Kelly ($238.38), Mrs. Lowry ($237.04), Mrs. Medina ($190.73), Mrs. Keen ($180.95), and Mrs. Hatfield ($125.81). I had asked the classes the same questions but, some had different responses. 1st place with the most
